CMTC-OVM new website

We have built a new website to which a 'Community' will soon be added so that you can make contact with each other, share photos, chat and more. It is not a Facebook (Meta)community but a separate community. The security of the community complies with European privacy legislation and is only accessible to members.

If you have any ideas, let us know!

Overview of genes related to the development of vascular malformations

Prof. Dr. Miikka Vikkula, a global authority in genetics and one of our advisors, has been researching genetics and vascular malformations for many years. He recently published an article that provides an overview of which genes are (possibly) related to which vascular malformations.
